Television

If you broadcast something, you send it out on TV, radio or the Internet. There are now many broadcasting companies and many programmes. People watch:

- the news [information about world events]
- the weather forecast [a description of what the weather will be like in the next few days]
- documentaries [programmes that give facts about real situations and real people]
- chat shows [programmes where famous people are asked questions about themselves]
- a series [a number of programmes that have the same characters or deal with the same subject]
- soap operas [a regular series of programmes, often two or three times a week, about a group of characters who live in the same area]
- reality TV shows [programmes which follow ordinary people or celebrities [famous people] through a number of situations or challenges. Well-known [famous] examples include: Pop Idol, The X Factor and Strictly Come Dancing].

Language help

We usually use channel to talk about television broadcasting, e.g. The news is on Channel 4; and station to talk about radio broadcasting, e.g. A: What station are you listening to? B: Radio 1 – it's mostly pop music.

Media reporting*

Many newspapers also have online forums where people can leave messages and discuss topics. News is also reported online through podcasts [a radio programme that you download from the Internet and play on your computer or phone], e.g. Have you heard the latest business podcast on the CNN website?

When we refer to something that someone has said or written, we do it in these ways:

It said in The Times that the plane crashed in the sea.

According to the news on TV last night, the plane crashed in the sea.

*reporting in newspapers, on TV or the Internet

Common mistakes

It says in the paper / According to the paper ... (NOT ~~It's written~~ in the paper ...)
